Volume 17, Number 2 ~ Nov. 2001

4. PRESIDENT'S CORNER
Richard Dolewski
5. TUG BOARD OF DIRECTORS LIST
6. Feature Article: iSERIES PRINTING:
"THE OUTPUT OF e-BUSINESS"

Mira Shnier – In the past, output almost always meant the printed page. With V5R1 on the iSeries, IBM is delivering solutions to help you deliver your output to the intended recipient in a variety of methods and formats. Mira, our November evening speaker, reviews these solutions.

14. WHAT'S HOT AND NEW IN iSERIES STORAGE?

Nancy Roper – Our matinee speaker at the November MoM gives us a preview of her presentation on the new storage technologies from the IBM Redbooks, such as LTO tape, Storage Area Networks, and fibre channel.

18. THE AGENDA

Bios and abstracts of our upcoming November 21 speakers and topics.

19. PROJECT MANAGEMENT TALES – THE DOG ATE MY HOMEWORK

Debbie Gallagher – "... the determined lack of response led the developer to become suspicious that the technical analyst had taken a short cut and not done any proper analysis of the problem after all. The project manager was reluctant to press further, as he thought the developer was concerned about technical details outside her area of expertise ..."

21. COMMUNICATING WITH SAM – Wireless LANs

Sam Johnston – This month's question for Sam is all about how to optimize existing wireless facilities through convergence and expansion. Sam delivers an in-depth look at the issues involved, and recommendations for success.

26. WEAK LINKS MAR SECURE MESSAGING SYSTEM

Scott Welch – IT departments have spent the past few years looking at details such as the number of bits of encryption or the list of acceptable passwords, while ignoring glaring holes in security that are easily exploitable by even the most technically-challenged.

Charles Machalani

28. TUG MoM REVIEW – THE SEPTEMBER 2001 MEETING OF MEMBERS

Léo Lefebvre – Léo gives us a re-cap of the September 19, 2001 TUG Meeting of Members, (held at the Howard Johnson Plaza-Hotel) with excerpts from the excellent presentations by Charles Machalani (V5R1 DB2 UDB), and Kent Milligan (iSeries – Thin Client Computing).
