A "Patchy" Start

(How Apache got its name...) Eight programmers with an interest in doing more with a common software application -- the NCSA Web server that had originally been developed by Rob McCool -- found each other on the Net and began exchanging ideas, changes, and fixes. At first the group referred to their project by the joke name "A Patchy Server" -- in reference to the patches they were applying to the NCSA server to add features and fixes. Ultimately, the Apache name was formally adopted out of respect for the Native American tribe ... and the eight programmers became known as the Apache Group.

Thanks Ed!

On behalf of our membership, the TUG Board of Directors would like to acknowledge the significant volunteer contribution made by Ed Jowett, who has served as Treasurer of the Toronto Users Group for Midrange Systems for the past 7 years. The job of Treasurer is one of the most difficult and demanding tasks, and often goes unheralded, because it is usually done after-hours and not in the limelight. Although Ed is stepping down from being Treasurer, he will still continue on as a Director at Large, to help with the transition and provide us with guidance from his many years of experience in the IT community. Bev Russell will pick up the torch as our new TUG Treasurer. (Are you sure you know what you are getting into, Bev?) Thanks for your hard work, Ed. We really appreciate it...

Ed Jowett

Word Twister

Only one other word can be made from all the letters of INSATIABLE. Can you find it?

[Answer in next issue.]
