07 Feature Article - THE CASE FOR SOFTWARE MANAGEMENT

△ Paul Conte

Every IT organization practices some form of software management, whether ad hoc and mostly manual, or well-defined and highly-automated. So the case you'll be making isn't really to have your IT organization adopt software management...

10 THE AGENDA

At our next Meeting of Members (MoM), January 21st, TUG will present Paul Conte on "Software Management" at our usual venue: the Toronto/Yorkdale Travelodge Hotel at Keele and Highway 401.

13 TUG MoM REVIEW △ Stephen Bingham

Coverage (with lots of photos) of the November 2003 Meeting of Members, held at the Toronto/Yorkdale Travelodge Hotel featuring guest speaker: Doug Fulmer (IBM, Dallas, Texas).

15 TEC2004 OUTLOOK △ Glenn Gundermann

Have you marked your calendar yet, for TEC2004? Glenn updates us on the exciting plans for the next TUG Technical Education Conference, April 20 & 21, 2004.

18 REMOTE SYSTEM EXPLORER

△ George Farr & Phil Coulthard

This month Phil and George introduce you to the Remote System Explorer, or RSE, within WebSphere Development Studio Client 5.0. This is the new generation of PDM and SEU, by the same team in Toronto who brought you PDM and SEU. We hope you will find it compelling enough to overcome the natural resistance to change.

22 PROJECT MANAGEMENT TALES

△ Debbie Gallagher

(This month's PM Tale is entitled "The Optimist") ... The Project Manager wanted to help the client feel comfortable with the selected product and vendor, and didn't want to worry the client. So, she decided to skip the project risk assessment – after all, what could go wrong?

25 COMMUNICATING WITH SAM △ Sam Johnston

– iSeries Server Consolidation Business – The ability to consolidate independent environments running different applications with unique data is a silver lining in the iSeries architecture. Through logical partitioning the main applications and databases in use today can be consolidated with very little effort.

DR.DA/DDM Debug Enhancements

This month we are looking at a new diagnostic aid for distributed SQL programs. Did you know that all jobs that use the DDM/DRDA TCP/IP servers (QRWTSRVR and QRWTLSTN) can be monitored?
