PHP for System i5

5:00 pm Session Abstract

System i and Zend Technologies, Inc. provide an integrated and open Web application deployment environment using PHP Hypertext preprocessor on i5/OS™. PHP is a powerful, open, yet easy-to-use Web application environment that has the support of a large community with more than ten thousand applications and components to share. PHP is a natural fit for i5/OS clients and developers, offering improved productivity and rapid deployment.

John Mascarenhas will present the brand new PHP offering for System i5. You will get an introduction to PHP and find out what this new product can do for you. We will have live demos to show you how easy it is to get started with PHP, so don't miss out!

Speaker:
John Mascarenhas

John Mascarenhas is an IBM Technical Specialist, System i, with IBM Canada Ltd. He can be reached at jmascare@ca.ibm.com.
